Black People vs. Black People: We Are Our Own Worst Enemy Thomas Leigh III

We as a race of black people must realize, acknowledge, and understand that not only do we create our own reality, but we're also in control of the reality that we create. We cannot change the state of black people in America with an opinion, but we can change the state of black people in America by communicating the raw and naked truth to our people. Many of the subjects this book covers may offend some black people; however, let it be known that this is not passive literature. This book is raw, uncut, and X-rated, with hopes that it opens your eyes and you clearly understand that we as a race have some very serious internal problems that we truly need to resolve. This book may serve as your blueprint to help restore unity, self-respect, self-love, and race pride among us. But like it's been said before: "If you want to hide something from black people, put it in a book. They won't read it anyway."
