Walking with the God Who Cares: Finding Hope When You Need It Most Catherine Martin

Every Christian has endured difficult times, and we know that God can use suffering to transform sinners into saints. But how can believers remain confident that their trials are making them stronger and not tearing them down? How can they keep a deep and abiding sense of joy in the midst of sorrow and pain? Catherine Martin demonstrates that the answer is an intimate relationship with the God who cares and a complete dependence on His Word.

This 30 day journey includes inspiring examples of faithful men and women who have found the strength to stay the course with God, stimulating presentations of Bible promises, and personal stories of how God has walked with Catherine through her own times of suffering. People who are looking for answers will also find...

- daily My Response pages with a key verse, an open ended question, and space to formulate their own response
- weekly quiet time plans that empower readers to experience everything God has to offer for themselves
- appendixes with group discussion questions, lists of Bible promises, and recommended resources for further reading

This complete, interactive guide leads readers step by step from sorrow to joy and from defeat to victory.
